Annual Dinner of Canyon Chamber Commerce Friday

PRESIDENT CORNETTE

The annual dinner of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce will be held Friday night at 7 o'clock in Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church.

President James P. Cornette of West Texas State will deliver the principal address of the evening.

The College Male Quartet, under the direction of Houston Bright, will have charge of the music for the occasion. Mr. Bright will lead in the singing of America for the opening number.

The toastmaster will be Clyde W. Warwick, retiring president of the Chamber of Commerce.

A financial report of the activities of the Chamber will be presented by A. B. Holt, executive secretary.

Delbert Lowes, past president of the Chamber, will introduce the new directors who have been selected for the coming year's work. The nominations committee has made no recommendations of officers for the coming year and this will be done at the first meeting of the new board next week.

A new feature has been added to the work of the Chamber this year. Representatives of all organizations in Canyon which are connected with public improvements recently met and selected the person in Canyon who, according to their opinions, has accomplished the greatest amount of public good during the past year. A plaque has been bought by the Chamber for presentation to this person. The committee is keeping its selection secret until the plaque is presented. Dr. Ples Harper, representing the Rotary Club, will make the presentation.

The new map has been brought up to date to show all of the recent changes in the principal highways of the state. Complete mileage tables are shown.

Twenty-five full color pictures show points of interest in Texas and along the Pan-American highway in Mexico.

The highway department distributed three hundred thousand copies of the 1949 edition. An even larger demand for the new map is anticipated.

The Hereford men will take a registered Hereford bull, which is a gift from Boys' Ranch, by plane.

County Jail To Be Investigated by Court Member

The Commissioners Court spent practically all of Monday discussing the jail situation in Randall county. The City Commission had notified the Court that in the near future the city jail would be discontinued due to so much criticism of the inadequacy of the jail and unsanitary conditions in the old building. Furthermore, the city has bought a new fire truck and needs the space now occupied by the jail for the fire department.

The Court inspected the property and decided that the entire body would make an inspection of jails in other counties before reaching a decision. Building a jail on top of the present court house is out of the question due to the fact that the present court house is only semi-fire proof.

The court will proceed as rapidly as possible toward a solution of the problem. Practically all of the county's prisoners are now kept in the Potter county jail, but this is expensive due to the cost of transportation of prisoners and the charge made for keeping the prisoners while in jail.

Hamlin Exhibit Being Classified Denver Authority

The Hamlin exhibit has been brought to the Panhandle-Plains Museum and is now being catalogued for display.

Before his death, Judge James D. Hamlin requested that Albert Scott, art collector from Denver, be employed to come here and do this work. Mr. Scott has long been engaged in this work and is an authority on various types of art which is found in the Hamlin collection, which consists of approximately 2,000 items.

The largest moving van in Amarillo came Thursday to bring the exhibit from the Hamlin home near Farwell to the museum. The van was overflowing, and three carloads of additional priceless items were brought to the museum by Boone McClure.

Mr. Scott started to work Friday morning on the exhibit. He had been a friend of long standing of Judge Hamlin, and has known Hamlin Overstreet, nephew of the deceased Judge, for many years. Mr. Scott had worked with Judge Hamlin in the collection of his rare antiques.

Cataloguing this great art exhibit is work for an expert. Mr. Scott was asked Friday what price he would place on a certain gong which he was admiring. It was Chinese in origin. After looking at two or three catalogues of Chinese Art, Mr. Scott replied that if it came from a certain era, before Christ, it would be worth $2,000. He would have to check further before making sure of the value.

While early contributions to the museum by Judge Hamlin have been on display for months, the latest contribution will probably not be on display until the second unit of the museum has been completed. Several months ago Judge Hamlin estimated that he had probably invested nearly $100,000 in art, silverware and books. The market value of today will probably raise this amount very greatly.

Under the terms of his gift, the Historical Society is given the right to dispose of any of the collection as the directors deem advisable. Relatives of Judge Hamlin asked that they be permitted to buy some of the Spode china in his home and this has been granted. Judge Hamlin had enough china and silverware to serve 80 persons. The museum kept only a limited number of each size and design for display purposes.

During his stay in Canyon, Mr. Scott will speak to several groups on art and antique collection.

Directors of the society have a big job ahead in finishing the second unit of the museum in order to furnish adequate space for the display of this large exhibit.

D. S. Hill Will Retire After 14 Years on Court

D. S. Hill, county commissioner, precinct No. 3, will not be a candidate for re-election this year.

Mr. Hill will have served as a member of the court for 14 years when he retires on January 1, 1951.

"I have enjoyed the work on the court very greatly during the years, but feel that it is time for me to retire without a campaign this year," stated Mr. Hill Monday. Mr. Hill and Clarence Beckman are senior members of the court, both serving in their seventh term on the court.

County Judge Burney Slack Is Asking Re-election

JUDGE BURNIE SLACK

Judge Burney Slack has authorized The News to announce his candidacy for re-election to the office of County Judge. His announcement follows:

"I wish to take this means of announcing to the voters of Randall county my candidacy for re-election to the office of County Judge and Ex-Officio School Superintendent, subject to the Democratic primaries. In submitting my announcement as a candidate for re-election to this office, I am doing so solely on my desire to serve in this capacity another term and I base the success of my candidacy on the record of my past services.

"Randall county has been my home for 47 years. I graduated from the Canyon High School, attended West Texas State, and graduated from the University of Texas. The good people of Randall county honored me by electing me to this office two years ago, and for this I am very grateful and wish to thank them for their support and cooperation.

"I plan to see each voter during this campaign and discuss my candidacy with each; but should I miss any one, I take this opportunity to ask for your vote and support in the coming primary election.

"I consider the office of County Judge a most important office, and should I merit the confidence of you voters, I promise to be active, faithful and considerate at all times on the job," concluded Judge Slack.

City Has Bought New Fire Engine

The City Commission has bought a 2½ ton GMC chassis which completes the purchase of equipment for the new fire engine.

The Canyon Motor Co. sold the chassis which will be delivered to the fire equipment company in Oklahoma City for installation of the pump. The chassis will cost approximately $2,600 and the pumper, $4,238.

The city will add about a thousand feet of hose to the new fire truck. The entire cost will be approximately $9,000 when the fire equipment is completed and delivered in Canyon.

Citizens Approve Bond Issue for Widening Highway No. 87

A group of Canyon citizens met with the City Commission Tuesday night to discuss the highway situation through Canyon. G. B. Heath has been working on this project for several weeks, and has agreements with all but six property owners to provide for the widening of Highway 87 to a four lane structure.

It is indicated that little progress can now be made until the bonds are voted and provision made for condemnation proceedings to start. According to Mr. Heath, options which have been given, damages to other property, building curbs, gutters, sidewalks and drainage will total $95,000. If this work does not require all of the money, the bonds will not be issued.

The group of citizens voted unanimously for the City Commission to proceed with the bond issue, making the best trade possible on the lowest interest available. Mayor W. A. Warren stated that this bond issue could be paid off with only a slight increase in taxes. The city is in the best condition of any town in Northwest Texas.

If the bond issue is approved by the voters, the city proposes to build a White Way along the new highway and to install stop lights in order to better regulate traffic.

Land Deeded to Government For Guard Armory

The federal government now has title to the 202 acres of land on which it proposes to build an armory for the use of the National Guard unit in Canyon, Company F, during the coming year.

The government required an insurance policy deed, rather than a straight warranty deed. This has been secured, all paper on the transfer recorded, and mailed to National Guard headquarters in Austin this week.

It is stipulated that in case the armory is not built within a period of one year that the property shall revert to the city of Canyon and to the county of Randall. This tract of land was bought jointly by the two branches of government.

March of Dimes Off To Slow Start For 1950

The 1950 campaign for the March of Dimes, proceeds of which goes to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, got off to a slow start last week in Randall County. The campaign lasts through January 31, and every citizen in Randall County is urged to contribute his part in this 1950 campaign to fight the dread disease of infantile paralysis. The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is asking for dollars instead of dimes this year, to care for the many patients who were stricken in 1949, and the many new patients that will be admitted to polio centers in 1950.

To date, there has only been $322.00 collected in Randall County which lacks a great deal reaching the quota of $1,000. Mrs. C. O. Elkins, Randall County Campaign Director announced this week. Collections jars are in every business house, and citizens are asked to drop their contribution there or take it to the bank where there will be a collection table. Checks may also be mailed to Mrs. C. O. Elkins, and made out to the March of Dimes.

Many people have confused the emergency drive held a few months ago with the annual March of Dimes drive. The present campaign is for financing the care of patients in 1950, whereas the emergency campaign supplemented the depleted budget of the National Foundation for 1949.

Make contributions NOW so that some polio victim may have the chance to walk again!

Only Few More Days Before End Poll Tax Payment

There has been a sudden increase in interest in the payment of poll taxes in Randall county during the present week.

The deadline for tax payments is next Tuesday, January 31.

It has been pointed out that poll taxes are no longer charged against property owners, and the only way to get poll tax receipts is to go to the office of the collector and make this payment, either separately, or in addition to the property tax payments.

Payment of poll taxes in South Amarillo has increased during the past week. It is estimated that 2,000 poll tax receipts should be issued at the office of Deputy Collector R. M. Allred, but the present payment is far below this goal.

Seymour Rusk in Hospital With Heart Attack

Seymour Rusk, son of Bud Rusk, is in the Gallup Hospital, Gallup, New Mexico, following a heart attack on Saturday, January 14.

Mr. Rusk returned to Canyon Sunday night after having spent three days and nights at the bedside of his son. He reports that while Seymour is somewhat improved he will be confined to the hospital for 3 to 6 weeks.

Man Is Held in Death of West Texas Student

Daniel Irvin Roberts, 24, of Permyton was killed Thursday night at 11 o'clock in Amarillo when his car was hit by a driver, who is now charged with homicide. Roberts had completed his degree in West Texas State on the day of the accident.

Carl L. Mason, 22, of Wheeler, and an Amarillo girl were in the car with Roberts. Both were treated in an Amarillo hospital.

According to officers, Roberts pulled into the center lane to pass a car when he was hit by an oncoming car which hit the Roberts' car head-on.

63% Increase in Palo Duro Park Attendance in '49

According to a chart circulated by Fred A. Emory of Chicago, attendance at the Palo Duro State Park in 1949 was 63% above the record attendance of any year since the opening of this playground.

The highest previous attendance at the park was in 1945 when 52,314 persons registered at the Park. This was the year that Japan ended the war, on August 14.

The Treasure Hunt which was staged under the direction of John L. McCarty, together with wide publicity being given to the Park during the year, was responsible for the large attendance.

Because of open weather during the winter months, January records are being shattered, and 1950 is off to a splendid start.

A visitor from Rhode Island Sunday stated that the Park was the greatest spectacle that she had ever seen. She was with a party who spent the day in the Park, visiting every section of this work of nature.

Chas. Y. Johnson Asks Re-election Commissioner No. 4

CHAS. Y. JOHNSON

Promising a continuation of "good government" in county affairs, Chas. Y. Johnson this week announced his candidacy for a second term as Commissioner from Precinct 4.

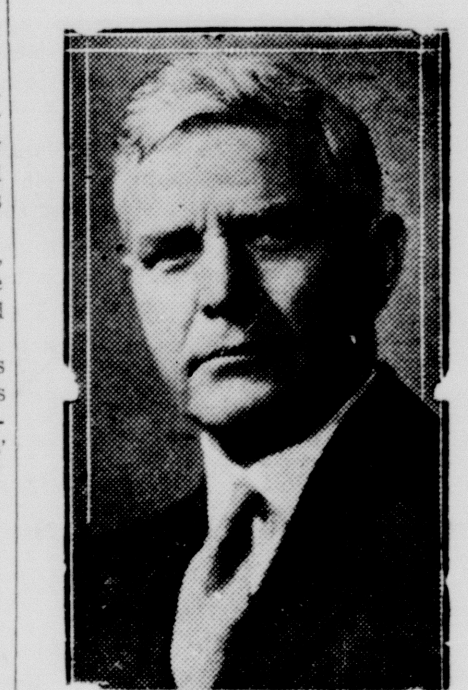

"When I offered for my first political office," said Commissioner Johnson, "I pledged the people of my precinct and of Randall county an administration based on efficiency and good business policies."

"The record speaks for itself. All precinct indebtedness has been paid and the precinct is on a cash basis, with adequate funds in reserve to meet the cost of the Happy Glen paving project and other improvements which may come before the county as a result of the heavy population gains and general development in Precinct 4.

"It is my hope that the county should get full value for every dollar expended on county affairs. In co-operation with the other county officials, I have given the job the time it required and believe that the people of my precinct and of the county as a whole have had a sound, business-like administration. I consider it a privilege to serve the people as their county commissioner and am inviting their support for a second term."

Mrs. W. L. Nabours of Deming, New Mexico, and Lt. and Mrs. L. F. Nabours of San Lorenzo, California, visited last week in the home of their daughter and sister, Mrs. J. D. Pruett and family.

Judge Henry Bishop Seeks Re-election To District Office

JUDGE HENRY S. BISHOP

The News is authorized to announce the candidacy for re-election of Judge Henry S. Bishop to the office of District Judge, 47th Judicial District.

Judge Bishop states that he will see all of the voters that he can before the Democratic Primary, without neglecting his work in District Court of the three counties. His district is composed of Randall, Potter and Armstrong counties.

The Judge states that he hopes to receive consideration of all of his friends and every voter in the district as a candidate for re-election to this important judicial office.

District Governor Speaks to Honor Charter Members

On Wednesday the 11th the Lions' Club had a program in honor of the Charter members of the club which was organized in 1940.

Charter members present were M. E. Cantrell, Clay Cooper, Andy Walsh, Ed Williams, Houston Bright, Bob Clark, Neely Cox and Herschel Jennings.

The speaker for the occasion was District Governor Curtis Pryor of Borger. Mr. Pryor, head of the Borger public school system and of the Borger Junior College, is District Governor over eighty-six Lions' Clubs in the Panhandle-area. His talk was on Lionism.

Margaret Hand, with her violin, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Demus, furnished the music for the program.

M. B. Shepherd was welcomed into the club as a new member. Guests present were Max Allen, Weldon Bright, Bennie Harper C. G. Pond, John Gillis and Stuart Condon of Canyon and Carl King of Amarillo. C. A. Cryer and Ernest Kelly, Lions' Club members of Borger, accompanied Mr. Pryor to Canyon.

At the regular meeting on Wednesday, the 18th, Guy Harp, Canyon postmaster, was the principal speaker, giving a very interesting talk on the ways and whereof of the deficit under which the postoffice department is operating. He also pointed out the tremendous growth in volume of business by the local post office, which during the past year did approximately $37,000 worth of business.

Guests were E. V. Smith and Jim Crawford of Abilene and Elmer Mason of Wildorado.

No More Units Are Possible For Federal Housing

John T. Egar, Public Housing Administrator in Washington, D. C., has written various persons in Canyon that 15 units will be the maximum to be allowed in Canyon at the present time. Application was first made for 200 units, but was later changed to 100 units.

Following the granting of 15 units, application was made for 60 more units, which has been rejected because of the lack of money.

However, it is known here that the administrator has sent men into Amarillo offering to build 250 to 500 units if and when there was a public demand for this additional construction.

So that's that. Ted Schuer, Jr., of Seminole was a guest in the home of his aunt, Mrs. J. Madison Daugherty last week end. He is a student at Texas Tech, Lubbock.

Who Will Pay Cost of Care For Unfortunates of Texas

The legislature will meet next Tuesday in search of cash to pay for the eleemosynary institutions of Texas. The unfortunates of the State have no lobby or representatives to demand that they be taken care of by the State.

Various schemes are being proposed, including single shot tax measures which promise to raise uncertain amounts of Money. The Governor believes that $25,000,000 will be needed.

We see that there are many folks in Texas raising their voices against any such amounts. The cost of government is too high, so it is affirmed, and no one challenges such a statement. Yet we have the unfortunates in Texas, and the number continues to grow. We are doing nothing to stop the increase in this type of population.

We see that one legislator proposed a hike of 1 cent per pack on cigarettes. That would be all right for the smokers to pay for the support of these institutions, but what about the equality of such a tax? What about those of us who do not smoke? Are we not good citizens, and justly due a part in the support of these institutions?

The trouble with all such one-shot tax measures is that they usually apply to one class of citizens. All of us should pay our part of the cost.

We make the feeble suggestion that a general sales tax—as unpopular as such a tax is—is the only equitable measure left open for the state.

Folks from other states are amazed to find that Texas does not impose such a nicker grabbing tax! Are they right, or wrong?

Technical Training in High Schools Much in Demand

What about education? What kind of schools should the taxpayers support?

We see that with the demand for an additional high school in Amarillo comes the demand for a technical high school so that students who do not intend going to college will become trained in mechanics of various types.

The argument is being made that about half of those starting to high school eventually withdraw, simply because they are not interested in the arts and sciences being offered and want to become mechanics.

Trades schools are very expensive.

Perhaps they appeal to a larger number of boys than would the general high school courses.

It seems to be the order of the day to turn kids loose and allow them to study what they please, as they please. Training of the hands is more essential than training of the mind, so the argument goes.

The short cut courses offered by the army during the war has not had a good influence on the boys in high schools. Too many boys want to get out and go to work without taking proper high school training. All of this adds up to the possible influence that public education, under present trends, will have upon college courses and the colleges themselves.

Not being an educator we may have ideas on the subject, but they are probably wrong. So we are leaving the solution up to those who wrestle with such problems day after day.

Advertising of Liquor Should Not Be Stopped, Except by People

The Canyon News does not accept liquor advertising. We have lost several thousands of dollars in revenue because of this policy. Probably we have never received one penny of income because we did not carry liquor advertising. Few people appreciate what their newspapers try to guard them against.

There is a bill in Congress to prohibit liquor advertising in newspapers and magazines. Frankly we are opposed to such a bill. Not that we ever drink the stuff, or enjoy seeing the pages of our favorite publications cluttered up with liquor advertising; but so long as the American people vote wet and continue voting wet, those publications, which wish to accept liquor advertising, have a legal right to continue carrying this type of advertising.

Let's get right on this liquor business.

The income from the legal sale of liquor does not compensate for the increased cost of law enforcement; for the broken lives of men and women, boys and girls, who are affected by this poison.

Until the people kick out the stuff, the newspapers and magazines are within their rights to advertise the stuff which the people accept.

Bigger Business, But Smaller Profits Is History of 1949

A business man stated the other day that his firm had the largest business in its history in 1949, but that net profits were only half of the profits of 1948. Why? Because expenses had skyrocketed, and that his firm was having a tough time to keep going.

This is just an example of what is going on over the nation.

Don't go into a business of which you know little or nothing; and don't expect to get rich over night in any line of business. Because men of today are running into expenses and problems which they never, never thought existed a few years ago. As a matter of fact they did not exist until we got the idea of the government giving a helping hand to everyone—regardless.

One of the handicaps to the system of free enterprise is the theory, so widely advertised in some circles, that spending money for public health is socialism and spending money for subsidies to business is statesmanship.

The British go to the polls in February to pass judgment upon the Labor government; it will surprise some Americans if the result is approval of what has been done.

While the Hollywood set may add to the gaiety of the nation there are no reasons why the nation couldn't get along without the movie boulevard.

How many Americans would contain communism in China by sending a half million American fighting men to give battle to the Reds?

The popularity of a newspaper column may be based upon sense or sensation, depending upon the readers.

Public Spending Does Not Insure Prosperity in Nation

We are more impressed day after day with the mounting cost of government and where the trend is leading us.

We see that certain labor unions are rejecting the $100 per month pension plan on the grounds that such low pensions are inadequate.

Social Security is being sneered at because of the low amounts that are paid to workers who have contributed to this welfare agency. Congress is being implored to raise both the take and the pay so that Social Security may again be respectable in the eyes of those who hope to eventually get under the protecting arm of Uncle Sam and draw a monthly check on which they may live in security.

This is only a starter, but if this plan goes through, a larger dent will be made in the income of both business and workers as they seek to keep up with the growing needs of the people.

The rapid increase in population is having a decided effect upon the spending of all public institutions. More schools are needed; more city facilities must be provided; the counties and the states need more money.

Where will the public demand end?

You tell us! We are not so enthusiastic as the President. Public spending has never brought prosperity, although it has diverted disaster.

Manufacturers Think It Smart To Cater to the Big Cities

We have just had an order rejected which we sent to a house with which we have been doing business for 25 years. During that period we have sold thousands of dollars worth of their merchandise. We sent in a very sizable order, and a letter came back saying that they were sorry, but they were concentrating their dealership in this area to a large town, just one dealer.

Those who have kept accurate records of sales throughout the nation state that the average manufacturer sells 70% of their products to small towns.

During the war a large number of firms have employed young smart executives who believe that the "hick" towns should be ignored in favor of the big boys. They forget that there are competing lines open today in these same hick towns, and that most of the dealers in the small towns will start selling these products. One of these days these smart boys will be sending around representatives begging for business.

Will they get any business from us? No, indeed.

This is true in every branch of business, and merchants in small towns who go back to the firms which gave them the cold shoulder during "tight" years are saps if they return to these outfits when conditions get tough.

"Smart" Criminals Will Turn Evidence Against Dumb Bunch

The first reaction to the big robbery job in Boston was that so many men were involved that some of them would start to talking. Those who have long been associated with criminals know this to be a fact. Criminals like to brag about how smart and cunning they are in their operations.

Some folks wonder as to why so many thugs come forward and claim to have had some part in the robbery. They think it is smart. To be associated with the biggest crime in the nation's history is to display just how smart and cunning they are—so the stupid criminal thinks. In the final analysis they know they will eventually come free, after being carefully checked by the officers. They enjoy notoriety.

The robbery simply shows how hard it is to build a robbery proof vault, so that thugs will not find how to operate it.

Perhaps the whole story will come out before this is printed.

Oh, Yes, President Wants Bob Taft As His Opponent

Politics sure develops queer squirts. Here we have had the President cussing Bob Taft's labor law and painting a picture of a man with horns. Taft went back home and covered Ohio, precinct by precinct. He feels pretty confident that no one can defeat him.

Now comes admission from the White House that Taft is the same as re-elected; and that is just what the President wants! Imagine that.

The President figures that Taft will be the easiest man to defeat! Well, if the money holds out, and Congress continues passing White House approved bills, no one can defeat Truman in 1952. Not even Taft.

Money Is Cheapest Commodity In United States Today

When we were a kid, we recall many men saying that they would retire in ease when they accumulated $50,000. As a matter of fact any family could live in semi-luxury upon the income of such "wealth" at that time.

Today times have changed. Inflation has devaluated the dollar, and inflation has skyrocketed the cost of living. The man with $50,000 would be considered a fit subject for the bug house if he expected to retire upon the income on such an investment.

Money is the cheapest commodity in the world today. But just try to get hold of a wad of it!

An election is supposed to be the final word on public policies but most of the time most of the voters don't know what the issues are until the successful politician tells them afterwards.

It might be interesting to know what the people along the banks of the Ubangi think about the ten biggest news events of 1949.

We propose that Congress pass a law setting forth a week in which there shall be no drives to stir up the people about anything.

Then there are people who make a habit of clipping poetry out of the newspapers and sending it to their friends.

It is better to sell something for less than it is worth than to keep it when you have no use for it.

Temperance, be it understood, is a double-edged sword that cuts away excesses to secure a balance.

THE FAMILY HEARTHSTONE

"Look well to the Hearthstone; therein all hope for America lies."
—CALVIN COOLIDGE

IN THE COLD TWILIGHT OF THE NORTHERN WINTERS, AS THE EARLY SETTLERS GATHERED AROUND THE HEARTHSTONE FOR COMFORT, THEY WERE CREATING A SYMBOL THAT HAS STOOD THROUGH THE YEARS FOR THE AMERICAN FAMILY AND THE AMERICAN HOME.

THAT THE FAMILY SPIRIT, THE LOVE OF HOME, PERSISTS AS STRONGLY IN THE AMERICA OF TODAY, IS PROVED BY THE UNIVERSAL DESIRE OF AMERICAN FAMILIES FOR A HOME OF THEIR OWN. TO MEET THIS DESIRE, LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES ARE LENDING MONEY TO ASSIST INDIVIDUALS TO OWN MORE THAN A MILLION HOMES —

Mr. Truman is finding that some of his friends feel that he is making a mistake by not broadening the field of his close associates. The complaint is that the President tends to narrow his official contacts and to draw back from adding personalities to the little group around him.

William L. Phinney, Attorney-General of New Hampshire: "To permit any individual, however well-intentioned to flout the law by interposing his judgment as to whether and how long a person shall live is unthinkable and cannot be condoned."

25 YEARS OF GOOD CITIZENSHIP AND PUBLIC SERVICE

"Mrs. Dawson called Tuesday to give me her recipe for blackberry jelly. I made 13 glasses!"

"Then early Wednesday morning we knew the stork was on his way. Mother called the doctor."

"John got the cab, while Mother packed. Within minutes we were off!"

"Mother called everyone we knew, as soon as they were up. Karen and Sharon, our other daughters, were trying to get in their two cents worth, too."

Here are the high spots of a busy week in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. John Bowman of Independence, Missouri—the week that young Linda Marie joined the Bowman family of four.

It was a busy week, too, for their telephone. As Mrs. Bowman reports, "We use the telephone every day to run errands and deliver messages for us, but we never stopped to think about how useful and helpful it is—until we kept a record of our calls. And when we checked that record against our monthly bill, we were even more surprised at the low cost—about 2¢ a local call!"

Through the years telephone service has grown steadily in the part it plays in our daily lives—and the value it delivers. Today most folks will agree with the Bowmans that telephone service is one of the best buys in their family budget. Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

What else gives so much for so little?

"A half hour later John called home to say that 'Junior' turned out to be a girl!"

"John and Mother kept our telephone record for me. I'm finishing it now. Reading it back makes me realize how much we depend on our telephone—and how little it costs!"

FUTURE PROSPECTS

Mrs. Justwed: I can't help feeling jealous of my husband's first love. Mrs. Longwed: My husband's first love doesn't bother me any more, it's his next love that I worry about.

Sam Rayburn, Speaker of the House of Representatives: "It looks like the country is in good shape."

It's a Lie! It's a Lie!! Say Russians

Who invented the electric light? If you say Edison, you're wrong—it was a Russian named Yablochokov. Who devised the telegraph? If you say Morse, you're wrong again—it was another Russian named Kakobi. The radio? No, it wasn't Marconi—it was still another Russian named Popov. How about the first successful flying machine? If you answer "the Wright brothers" you'll have to go to the bottom of the class—a Russian called Mozhaisky flew like a bird near St. Petersburg 20 years before the Wrights took off at Kitty Hawk.

These, and similar revelations, are disclosed by Edmund Stevens in the Christian Science Monitor. He found them in a Soviet magazine called the Literary Gazette. They show, he says, one of the ways the Soviet party "woos Russian national pride." The move corresponds to a vital need of Russians to vindicate their self-respect and destroy the residue of an old sense of inferiority. It also increases the Russian's confidence in their capacity to catch up with and outstrip the rest of the world technically at the present time. It is, in other words, an example of the kind of morale-building propaganda the government is now feeding the Russian masses.

Moreover, it is an example of how the Soviet bosses will use any untruth or half-truth to serve their ends. A story has been going the rounds concerning a British Communist who went to a meeting of Russian Communist strategists in Moscow. He was perplexed as to how to argue some ideological point or other in England. The Russians gave him an answer, to which he objected that it wasn't true. The Russians looked at him in amazement—and then burst into gales of laughter over such naïveté. It is said that the incident was described to the top Russians, including Stalin, and that they burst into laughter also.

This story may be apocryphal but it has a point. Communist thinking holds that the end justifies the use of any means. If a lie will work, it is told. Words are twisted out of all semblance to what they mean to other nations. That is touched on in General Walter Bedell Smith's revelations of his experiences as Ambassador to Moscow, which appeared serially in the Saturday Evening Post and are now out in book form. He, Secretary Marshall, and other Americans, he says, "Naively assumed that the word 'democracy' meant the same thing to the Politburo that it did to us."

Events proved that nothing could have been more wrong. The Russians gave 'democracy' a new meaning which suited them, and thus managed to give interpretations to international agreements which were the exact opposite of what the West had intended. This policy is one of the principal reasons for our failure to meet the Russians on common ground.

Printing Exhibit In Museum Gets Very High Praise

Under the direction of Dr. Robert T. Hatt, director of the Cranbrook Institute of Science, Bloomfield Hills, Mich., exhibits in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum are being rearranged for the purpose of depicting the various areas of progress made in this section.

Dr. Hatt came to spend a day here. "I wish that I had a week in which to inspect this museum and to make suggestions as to the display," he told Boone McClure before leaving. "You have so much valuable material here that one day is not sufficient for an adequate study of the various exhibits."

One of the exhibits in which Panhandle publishers are interested is the old printing exhibit. "It is one of the best that I have seen in any museum," stated Mr. Hatt. He recommended that the exhibit be moved from the basement to the second floor of the second unit in order that visitors get a better view of this exhibit. The exhibit has been assembled from various newspaper plants in this area, showing the development that has taken place during the past years.

When the directors of the Society meet, the plans suggested by Dr. Hatt will be presented. Not a great amount of work can be undertaken toward rearrangements of the exhibits until the second and third floors of the second unit have been finished, and cases provided for the display of the material which has been assembled.

Car of T. A. Black Wrecked; Couple Escaped Injury

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Black were returning from the Chas. Irvin ranch Sunday afternoon when their car was hit from the rear as they drove on their side of Highway 87-60, north of Canyon.

A new Nash car came up behind the Black car, driven at a fast speed and evidently the driver could not turn out soon enough to get around the Black car, which was turned over twice and landed on its top.

Mrs. Black's little finger on the right hand was badly cut, but otherwise both escaped with only bruises. The car was badly wrecked.

The driver of the Nash car is being questioned by officers.

Wright Says Homes Soon May Be Erected At Economy Figures

NEW YORK.—An esthetically attractive, fully equipped house soon can be built by any able bodied man for $1,500 to $3,000 using only the sort of skill a child shows in constructing an edifice of toy blocks.

No less a figure than one of the world's top architects, Frank Lloyd Wright, is the authority for that statement.

The first of what Wright hopes will be a vast number of such houses is scheduled for erection near White Plains, N. Y., by June, 1950. Two others are also scheduled to be built about that time in Kalamazoo, Mich. Before long, Wright said, it was hoped to have at least one model of the revolutionary new kind of houses in each of the 48 states.

As Wright explained it, the "Usonian automatic house" which he designed will be built out of a new type of cement block which can be fitted together in such a way that "no trowel will have to touch them."

The new type house, he said, can be as large or small as the amateur builder's taste and budget direct. A house equivalent in size to those now selling for around $10,000, could be built for $3,500 the architect said. A one-room structure, costing as low as $1,500 could serve as a starter.

Lone Goat Holds Rifleman At Bay for Five Minutes

WANAKEE, N.J.—If it's news when a man bites a dog, then it must rate a press paragraph or two when a lone goat holds 50 armed rifleman at bay, and then chases them, rifle and all, off the lot.

That's what happened during a private shooting match at a target range here. The 50 rifle enthusiasts, gathered for the match, all ran for the protection of their cars when the goat got after them.

The animal had held the rifleman at bay for five minutes when one shooter, braver than the rest, finally drove him off with rocks.

Why didn't anyone shoot? Bob Elwood, of Paterson, N. J., who was there, explained that the goat belonged to the range-owner's neighbor and he had requested that everyone hold fire.

Magnetic Auto Eye Saves Cars at Rail Crossings

HARRISBURG, PA.—A magnetic eye for automobiles prevented a make-believe railroad crossing accident here recently. Inventors of the gadget say it performs the following feats:

Registers the approach of a train at a railroad crossing. Brakes the automobile to a stop. Turns off the motor of the car. Keeps the car stopped until the train passes.

State, railroad and insurance company officials watched a demonstration of the device designed to eliminate grade crossing hazards.

The magnetic eye represents years of hobby pattering by three Pennsylvanians, Alfred M. Peiffer, 41, Harold C. Roeder, 41, and Oscar Funk, 57.

The device would be installed in motor vehicles—particularly buses and gasoline trucks—at a cost of about $12 to $15 each.

Railroads or state highway departments would place magnetic coils at intervals in the roadbeds of highways approaching grade crossings. These coils would be tied in with the blinker signal system now used at many crossings.

As a train approaches, it would set off a magnetic impulse from the roadbed coils. These impulses would be caught by the magnetic eye in the automobile. The magnetic eye in turn would operate the brakes and turn off the ignition.

"We've worked 19 years on this project and we think it's foolproof," said Roeder. "If the equipment was installed at every grade crossing in the country and if every automobile had our magnetic eye, grade crossing accidents would go down to zero."

Although patented, the invention still is to be marketed.

Barometer Opens Parachute In Fixed-Altitude Test

STANDSTEAD, ENGLAND.—A former paratrooper made a two-mile delayed jump here in the first field test of a new robot parachute designed to open at any chosen height.

A spokesman for the manufacturer explained the chute was worked by a barometer which sets off a spring and causes the canopy to pop open at the desired altitude. The altitude for opening is set in advance of the jump by a clock-work mechanism.

"There is always a danger that a pilot forced to jump at high altitude may pass out from lack of oxygen and fail to revive in time to pull his rip cord," the spokesman said. "With our device set in advance he can safely drop through the rarefied air, knowing his chute will open when needed."

The parachute used in the test opened on schedule at the fixed 5,000 feet.

JANUARY, 1950 IS PCA MONTH IN TEXAS: Wide publicity through newspapers, magazines, and radio is being given the accomplishment of production credit members in acquiring complete local ownership of their association. Without doubt the telling of this story—the biggest of the decade for farm and ranch people—is going a long way toward eliminating the misinformation and confusion indicated by such often-heard remarks in the past, as: "It's a government loan—a sort of relief outfit." "They loan government money." "They don't pay taxes." "Just a bunch of farmers who don't know anything about loans—they'll go broke the first little flurry that comes along." "I'd be glad to get my loan there but I'm afraid the government may close them up." And on—and on. These statements of course are not true but have been made mainly by people who know nothing about production credit associations. The net worth of the Amarillo Production Credit Association is $428,929.20 and we are now fully locally owned, having paid the government off in full December 31, 1947. 1t

England Ships Coal to U.S.A. Because Strike

Here is a bit of news that should be of interest to the coal miners of the country, and to everyone else.

In 1947, we shipped over 675,000 tons of coal to England. But things seem to have changed remarkably. A press dispatch says that a Boston coal company is awaiting the first shipment of British coal in some years. The president of the company said it was ordered, from Welch mines, "to bolster reserves depleted by work stoppages in American coal mines."

There can be no question who is responsible for those stoppages. Every one of them was ordered by John L. Lewis. The mine operators want to get the coal out. Certainly the miners want to keep their earning power, instead of working only three days a week or no days a week. Industries and retail dealers need coal, and their stocks are dangerously low in some cases. But Mr. Lewis, who is determined to dictate to the coal industry and to the miners, has said no.

The losses to the miners are huge—1949 shutdowns are estimated to have cost each miner something like $1200. And future losses are incalculable. If coal is unobtainable, or if the source of supply is uncertain, or if the price is too high, users, particularly the big commercial ones, will turn to other fuels with which coal must compete. So jobs are lost and coal's rightful place in our economy is undermined.

Mrs. Les Key and Sylvia visited her sisters Mrs. L. L. Beck and Mrs. W. B. McElwee and families in Lubbock this week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Silas Hart visited with his nephew and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bush in Amarillo Sunday.

To the flutter of a flag and the notes of a bugle, Fort Worth was founded 100 years ago by Major Ripley A. Arnold and 42 men of the Second Dragons. Arnold named post in honor of Gen. William J. Worth, under whom he had served in the capture of Monterey.

Fort Worth was a fort in name only, the chief buildings being the barracks. Three times a year, Major Albert Sidney Johnston, the paymaster, was a visitor. According to tradition, Col. Robt. E. Lee, on a visit, gazed into the wilderness and declared, "I hear the incoming march of thousands of feet."

The first woman to come to Fort Worth was Mrs. Arnold. And on the frontier with its crudities and perils, with no woman to console her, the commander's wife saw one of her children die and later a second one passed away.

Arnold, founder of Fort Worth, was born in Mississippi, graduated from West Point and served in the Florida Indian War as well as the Mexican War. He and his cavalymen patrolled the frontier and, one writer says, there was a battle in which 52 Indians were killed. The fleeing redskins made a stand and another fight took place in the vicinity of Lovers Retreat in Palo Pinto County.

The only battle at the fort was like a scene from a comic opera. The savages, enraged by the two defeats, assembled in great force on a bluff. Arnold ordered the fort's "artillery," a howitzer, wheeled into position and gave the command, "Fire!" The flash and roar of the little gun so terrified the Indians that they ran.

The fort was evacuated after four years, on Sept. 17, 1853. Major Arnold is buried in Pioneer's Rest beside his children. If he could return to the scene which he knew as a wilderness and where he put up log buildings, wouldn't he be astounded at the city he would see?

BUSINESS WOMEN'S BRIDGE CLUB MEET IN BEARD HOME

McIntire, Mrs. Guy Tabor, Mrs. E. E. Johnson, Mrs. M. D. Shepherd, Mrs. Letha Lehnick, Miss Lou Ella Patterson, Mrs. Felix Pierce, Mrs. Berl Mayfield, Mrs. Clay Cooper, Dr. Leta Boswell and the hostesses.

Mrs. McIntire won high score; Mrs. Lehnick traveling; and Mrs. Mayfield, low.

Mechanical Age Is a Marvel to Other Nations

Just how many motors are working for you in your home?

Whatever your answer, the chances are that it will be low. Few of us realize the vast amount of motor power, most of it produced by electricity, that we have at our command.

Here, for instance, is a partial list of the motor-operated machines and appliances that are commonly found in homes: refrigerator, mixer, vacuum cleaner, freezer, electric heater, fan, phonograph, dishwasher, ironer, floor polisher, electric razor, movie projector, washing machine, power saw, sewing machine and many others.

These motors that serve us are a reflection of the electric industry's revolutionary contribution to living. We touch a button or turn a switch, and a thousand and one odd jobs are done quickly and easily—jobs that once would have taken a great deal of time, toil and plain sweat. And electricity serves us at an amazingly low cost. The money we spend for it is among the smallest item in a family's budget, much less in most cases than is spent for tobacco and beverages. It is always there, and always ready.

This industry is a prime example of private enterprise at work. It began with an individual's invention. It was developed through the labor and savings of thousands upon thousands of individuals. It is not a creation of government. It has successfully met an apparently ever-increasing demand for electric service, often under the most difficult conditions. It is one of the largest and most dependable sources of taxation for government. And its contribution to life on the farm and in industry, as in the home, has been immeasurable.

The little motors turn and perform their tasks. A great industry, built by individuals in the American tradition, makes them possible.

HELPING OUT

"Watcha doing today?" said Mrs. A. to Mrs. B. during the course of a social telephone call.

"I'm washing the baby clothes," said Mrs. B. And right there the operator cut in and said "I'm ringing 'em."

Officials of government are interesting themselves in talks directed toward a possible series of mergers in the automobile industry. While the official line is in opposition to the idea of mergers, Government this time seems to favor merger.

Mr. Truman is to sport a new, heavily armored car for use in public appearances. The car, specially built with thick armor in its body, still is to have an open top.

Douglas MacArthur, U. S. General in Japan: "Although Japan is still technically at war, there are few places on earth more completely at peace."

9. H. Merle Cochran.
10. From June 23, 1948 to May 12, 1949.

There are men who are very careful about the oil they put into their automobile engines but rather careless about what they put into their stomachs.

The philosophy of equality will not long wait to insist upon economic equality. Most of the philosophers will be those who expect to get something for nothing.

THE EVIDENCE

Robinson: Who was that man you raised your hat to?

Green: That was my barber. He sold me a bottle of hair restorer a month ago, and whenever I meet him I let him see what a fraud he is.

HOME COOKING

"Is your husband fond of home cooking?"

"Yes, we are now taking our meals at a restaurant that makes a specialty of it."

One of the problems now baffling the do-good philosophers is why, among men of equality, there are some who work harder and more intelligently than others.

There is no reason, that we know of, why an intelligent man or woman cannot continue to be intelligent even when it comes to the matter of religious beliefs.

Ralph W. Sockman, preacher: "We must learn that true progress comes by development and not by displacement."

Wheat Poisoning in Cattle Discussed at Rotary Luncheon

Irving SoRelle was in charge of the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday and introduced Dr. M. R. Callihan of Amarillo, veterinarian, who is in charge of the wheat poisoning study being held at Pantex under the direction of Texas Tech and A. & M. College. Dr. Callihan is a former resident of Canyon, and a graduate of the Canyon high school.

The study is just getting underway, and no conclusions have been reached. The loss of cattle from wheat poisoning runs about a million dollars annually when wheat grazing is good.

A defect in calcium and magnesium seems to be the most likely answer to the cause of the disease. His department is seeking to find the cause and the treatments for prevention.

Work is being conducted among cattle, both from Tech and from Panhandle ranches; among sheep, and rabbits.

The poison first became serious in 1937. It may have existed before that time, but not so noticeable. The Panhandle, Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska seem to be affected.

While the disease is not so prominent this year, because of short grazing, blood tests are being made over a wide area, both among cattle affected, and normal cattle. A fully equipped laboratory is running the blood tests at Pantex.

Dr. Callihan states that from tests so far made, supplemental minerals, with additional feeding of bundles seems to check the disease. In another year his department hopes to have more definite information regarding the disease.

Visitors were: Fred Scott of Denver; Murry Ellison, J. E. Bowman, E. Kancher, Arch Hunsley, Dr. J. H. Brown, Horace Griggs, all of Amarillo.

At the end of the war, the Army was supposed to have 26,000 tanks. Nine thousand of them seem to have vanished into thin air; no one has a record of them.—Mrs. W. C. Ahlgren, Citizens Committee on the Hoover Report.

Western Senator Sees Folly in Public Power Dams

Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon has clarified his position on the proposed Columbia Valley Authority. He is 100 per cent opposed to it. In essence, this opposition is based on three distinct principles.

First, Senator Morse believes that the bill "places broad arbitrary and capricious administrative power over the economy of the Pacific Northwest in the hands of three presidential appointees whose decisions are not subject to immediate and effective check by the people who are affected by those decisions."

Second, he said, "I believe the pending CVA bill violates a basic principle to local self-government because it fails to give the people of the Pacific Northwest a voting voice in the determination of CVA policies."

Third, he concluded, "I think there are better ways of accomplishing a sound program of coordination between and among the various agencies." In this regard, he said that he favors the major Hoover Commission recommendations dealing with overlapping government bureaus concerned with power, reclamation, and so on.

Senator Morse's first two points are the important ones. CVA—to an even greater degree than TVA—would mean the beginning of the end of local self-government, local authority, local independence. The issue thus raised is certainly not restricted to the Pacific Northwest or any single region. It is national through and through. One reason why CVA is being pushed so hard is that it is to be the pattern for identical government corporations which would interlock to enmesh the whole country. To take a current example, President Truman, in his State of the Nation address, urged that the power program be enlarged to include regions "where the benefits of large-scale public power development have not yet been experienced," and specifically mentioned New England.

All in all, nine authorities of the CVA type are planned, each to be controlled by a three-man board with the "broad arbitrary and capricious administrative powers" which Senator Morse spoke of. In other words, if this program should be adopted, 27 men would control the basic resources of the United States. The 27 men, with virtually unlimited amount of tax money at their command, and operating tax-exempt public plants, would tell all of us what we could and could not do.

If this isn't a pattern of dictatorship, what is? When the authority of the people over their own resources and taxing power goes, freedom goes with it.

We mustn't let ourselves become the victims of the delusion that all we have to do is to vote the older people more money. We must learn to use the knowledge and skills of the older citizens. The Social Security retirement age should be raised beyond 65.—Bernard Baruch, industrialist.

It will be five years at least before the country has anything like the number of large private, semi-private and public structures that its present needs call for.—N. R. Patterson, president, American Institute of Steel Construction.

As a Republican I am not at all worried by the Senatorial election—unless the Democrats can do better than they have done so far with . . . a candidate.—Charles Taft, brother of Sen. Robert A. Taft.

It is somewhat humiliating that the Mother Country should have to take its lead from her children overseas in the matter of the defeat of Labour Governments in New Zealand and Australia.—J. R. S. Burman, London.

Dresses either made or fitted on today's standard dress forms are no more than sacks that are adding 20 years to plenty of women's ages.—Charles James, American fashion designer.

A shooting war is not inevitable within the next 50 years. The aims of the two principal parties in the cold war, Russia and the Western Powers, are better served by a cold war. Prof. Arnold Toynbee, author of A Study of History.

Fashion today is in a muddle. . . . But in the year 2000 the female silhouette may well be flat-bosomed, short and shapeless. Some women may even wear Homburg hats.—James Laver, London fashion historian.

S. military commanders for an effort to save Formosa for Chiang Kai-shek. General Marshall in 1946 thought he had much of China saved for Chiang, but the Generalissimo believed he could do better, and now he is down to his last island.

General Eisenhower was a bit surprised when Defense Secretary Johnson let the General take responsibility for sharp cuts in budgeted funds for the U. S. Marine Corps and a cutoff of Navy funds for shipbuilding. He is learning gradually that he is in pretty fast political company when he takes on little chores in Washington.

President Truman is disturbed by reports that the Administration really would like to see Senator Robert Taft re-elected in Ohio this year. The idea is that the Ohio Senator then would probably become the Republican nominee in 1952 and would be easier to defeat than Gen. Dwight Eisenhower or some other nominee.

Democrats in Congress are reporting a very favorable public response to the Truman idea of $1,000 more for everybody by 1955 and a $12,000 average income by the year 2000.

"Blind as a bat," is an incorrect saying, since bats can see.

Stalin Fiddles For Satellite State Dances

Many Americans must still wonder if the Soviet Union actually calls the tune within the satellite states or if these states, as the Kremlin claims, are actually independent "people's democracies." They must wonder too just how Communism manages to overrun a state—Czechoslovakia, for example—which had always had a high degree of individual freedom.

The October issue of Foreign Affairs carried a revealing answer to these questions. It was written by Jozsef Reval, whom the magazine terms "the leading theorist of Hungarian Communism," and was published by a Hungarian Marxist journal.

The gist of Reval's remarkable article is found in this paragraph: "We were a minority in parliament . . . but at the same time we represented the leading force. We had decisive control over the police forces. Our force . . . was multiplied by the fact that the Soviet Union, and the Soviet army, were always there to support us with their assistance. . . . When we struggled directly and apparently only for steadfast achievement of bourgeois-democratic tasks, we fought as well for the establishment and assurance of the conditions which made possible the socialistic transformation. The change in the development of our people's democracy into the dictatorship of the proletariat began with the destruction of the right wing of the Smallholder's Party, with the liquidation of the conspiracy and the fall of Ferenc Nagy (Nagy headed a Hungarian coalition government). Then the kulak (the more prosperous class of farmer) became an enemy, then the leading role of our party and the working class was strengthened. . . . This development, our development into a dictatorship of the proletariat, was crowned and definitely assured . . . by the destruction of the right wing of the Socialist Party and the establishment of the unified Workers' party."

That is a frank and accurate description of the standard Communist technique, written from the inside. It applies in principle to every country which has adopted the Marxist religion. The Kremlin actively aids and abets the movement, and the threat of Red army action always exists. The wolf-in-sheep's clothing device is always employed to disarm the people. And, once power is seized, all opposition is liquidated—including even the more moderate elements within the socialist ranks.

Reval's article implies one more fact of the highest importance. The Communist must win an election or any other form of political struggle only once—then they are in for good, unless war or revolution unseats them. Those who believe in free, representative government must win every time if they are to survive.

Let us be patient! These severe afflictions
Not from the ground arise.
But oftentimes celestial benediction
Assume this dark disguise.

Who's That Knocking at My Door?

Will Congress Sell Out Ideals to White House?

The new session of Congress may do much to decide whether we are to continue down the road that ends in statism and dictatorial government, or whether we are to reaffirm the principles and the ideals that made us a great, free and prosperous people.

A determined effort is being made to fasten the welfare state idea upon the country. Congress will be asked to appropriate billions for cradle-to-the-grave security measures—all of which, of course, would be compulsory. The only logical reasoning behind proposals of this character is that the American people are no longer capable of taking care of themselves, that independence, thrift, self-reliance and pride are obsolete virtues, and that we must follow the sorry example of near-bankrupt England and dictator-ridden Russia.

An equal determined effort will be made to extend government ownership and domination of industry and enterprise. This naturally goes hand in hand with the welfare state—the cloth is cut from the same bolt. The principal target of the socialists is and has long been the light and power industry. Inasmuch as electricity enters into almost every industrial, domestic and agricultural activity, political control of it would create, in effect if not in name, a monopoly over land, water, basic natural resources, and the instruments of production. The completed and proposed valley authorities are perfect examples of this.

It is also possible that an effort will be made to increase the tax rates—despite the fact that they are excessively heavy now, cut deep into the purchasing power of every individual, and make it difficult and in some cases impossible for enterprises to obtain the investment capital they need. That is particularly true of new and smaller companies.

The basic issue was well put by General Eisenhower when he said, "Government ownership or control of property is not to be decried principally because of the historic inefficiency of government management. . . . Its real threat rests in the fact that, if carried to the logical extreme, the final concentration of ownership in the hands of government gives to it, in all practical effects, absolute power over our lives." That fine statement should be on every Congressman's desk. We have come nearer than we realize to giving government such power.

Donna Erwin

Donna Erwin will be Canyon High School representative for the Daughters of the American Revolution this year, or otherwise titled "The School's Good Citizen."

Qualifications for the honor depend upon the following attributes: dependability, service, leadership, patriotism, and scholarship.

Heretofore, representatives have been eligible to make a pilgrimage to Washington, D. C. and to spend some time there, but beginning with this year, that practice has been discontinued; however, other honors are to be given.

Duties of the representative will be forwarded to E. Miller, principal, soon. Donna will be told what she must do to be eligible for the $100 bond which will be given to the State winner.

Donna will also receive a Good Citizen Certificate of Award from the National Society.

Grandparents Start Routine of Today

All was calm as students of Canyon Public Schools took semester tests last week. Great-grandparents probably started this routine off, since the school was established "way back in the '90's. First diplomas were issued in 1903.

But with all the labor of testing, there was one reward, a holiday on Friday for students! But for teachers, they were hard at work averaging grades for the semester records.

As to how conditions will prevail this week is a matter of guessing, since the fury of parents over some low grades may gather itself into a howling blizzard immediately after report cards are issued. There may be quite a blow in the principal's office. Things will eventually straighten themselves out and the ship will run on an even keel until next six-week's tests.

President Truman has been advised by legal experts that, without an amendment to the Constitution, he has no authority to veto individual spending items in appropriation bills. This is causing him to balk at the idea of Congress's making all appropriations in a single bill, which he would have to accept or reject in toto.

Ford, McDougal Are Winners of Honors

Bobby Gene Ford and Barbara McDougal placed on the all-tournament team at Tullia's Invitational Basketball Tournament last weekend. The girls came out in fourth place, being beaten by Idalou, for consolation, 37-27.

The Eagles' first game was played Thursday, with Hart Canyon won 35-28. Friday afternoon, in a close tussle with Lockney, they came out on the long end of the score, 23-20.

In a game with Dalhart, Saturday morning, the Eagles lost 19-30. This loss put them out of the winner's bracket, therefore they entered the bracket for consolation, only to lose to Idalou, 37-27.

The Dalhart sextet won the tournament with a victory over Dimmitt, Saturday night, in the finals.

Did You Know?

Did you know that if the seniors took a trip equivalent to the runs the Canyon school buses make each year, they would go seven times around the world? Yes, our school buses travel 1,828,060 miles each year. If the money spent on gas and repairs for the buses was the seniors' they could go by air to Mexico City for a ten day stay with all expenses paid!

Gads, this cost of education! But nevertheless money spent on education is only one-fifth as much as that spent on tobacco each year.

SCIENCE MATERIAL ARRIVES; LABORATORY WORK TO BEGIN

Are there going to be any girls left in Biology class? Real fun is just beginning! Stick around! Yes, dissecting will start in the near future. "Some of the girls may object to this part of their work," says Mr. Jack Barnett, science teacher. The dissection kit has arrived, along with other science materials, which are: a demonstration set, containing 48 specimens from 10 main animal phyla. Dissection preserver materials are hydra, graptalia, clam, perch, crayfish, perch, frogs, earthworms, grasshoppers, etc., also a microscopic slide containing various dissections were obtained from COE-Palm and from the Welch Companies.

Representative Carl Vinson, Chairman of the Armed Services Committee of the House, plans to avoid a new inquiry that might stir up the animals in the row of Air Force and Army with the Navy. Chairman Vinson doesn't want to encourage public airing of an armed-forces squabble during an election year.

Square Dance Is Week's Highlight

With six-gallon hats, red handkerchiefs and the clicking of boot-heels, CHS seniors cut the pigeon wing and do-si-doed until the rafters of the brightly decorated school cafeteria rang, Monday night.

Kenneth Erwin and wife, Anna Ruth, brought a square to perform, as examples for the students. Kenneth called, while music was furnished by square-dance records.

The students forgot their shyness and warmed up to the stamping match with unusual enthusiasm, determined to conquer the mystic figures of the dance or "beast-a-tryin'!"

Baked beans, onions, apricots, cookies and pop, prepared by room-mothers, was the "chow" for the hungry tenderfeet. Dogies wandered aimlessly around the corners of the pasture but were lassoed in for table games, since the "light fantastic" was too strong exercise for them.

Retakes Employ Pupils' Attention

Retakes of grade school pictures were made last Wednesday. Some of the students had been absent when pictures were made before, or pictures were not satisfactorily due to failure of the camera shutter to close properly.

The retakes have been received and are to be distributed to the grade school students. The pictures are in envelopes with sizes and prices printed on them. A certain per cent of the money taken in by Pat Britain, photographer, will be given to the annual fund.

Class favorites are busy signing pictures that were made recently. School favorites will be selected within the near future.

The second division of the annual is due next Tuesday, and the staff has been working steadily to beat the deadline.

"We are grateful for the many subscribers to our 1950 edition of 'Soaring Wings.' The number has surpassed any previous order. We also wish to express our thanks to the many students and teachers who are co-operating with us in compiling material," says the Co-Editors, Mary Ruth Hill and Donna Erwin.

Eagle Eggs Override Reapers With a Final Score of 28-21

CHS Eagle Eggs led off with good basket ringing against the Pampa Reapers last Friday afternoon in the grade school gym. At the half the score was 17-3 in favor of the Eagle Eggs.

Beginning the third quarter the second string went in for the Eagle Eggs, but their aim was poor as not a point was made by them during that period. At the fourth quarter the first string was sent back in and a nip and tuck battle ensued, since the Reapers had rung up a close tally. The Eagle Eggs began rolling for the basket until at the final gun their score read 28-21.

Edel Money was high point man with 13 and Arlan Ruthart came in second with 12.

Pampa Junior Team Garners Victory Over Canyon Juniors

Coach Lloyd Johnson's junior team was overcome 34-27 by Pampa's junior crew in a basketball game here Friday afternoon.

Tommy Middleton led the local boys by scoring with twelve points. Donald McDonald and Doyle Bourn tied for second place scoring laurels with six each. Jim Reynolds made two and Claude Money one.

They played WT Tuesday, but since the paper went to press before then, the score was not available.

Canyon B Team Edges Past Lubbock B, 23-21

The Lubbock Westerners met a surprise in the form of a determined Canyon Eagle squad, when they were downed 35-27 at Lubbock Friday night.

In a rough and tumble game, in which Lubbock drew 22 fouls and the Eagles 10, many thrills were provided for the spectators by Joe Abbott's floor-play and Ray Burrus' scrappy rebound work.

Abbott, sinking two field goals and five free shots, was high scorer with nine points. Bruce Winn and Ray Burrus were close behind with seven points each.

Bob Busted suffered a recurrence of an old knee injury the first half, but recovered to finish the game.

Garland Butler with his smooth passing and fine guarding was an asset to the Eagles both offensively and defensively.

"B" Team Wins

The Canyon "B" team won an overtime thriller 23-21, from Lubbock in the preliminary game.

Big Bob Ratliff led the scoring with eight points, trailed by Harrell Slack with six. Richmond Payne and Glenn Prater each garnered four.

Harrell Slack tied up the game with a fallaway jump shot in the closing seconds, and with the same shot, sank the only basket in the overtime.

Top Cyclones

The Eagles chalked up their second victory of the week by coming out on top of the Memphis Cyclones, 47-30, Saturday night.

The Eagles, grabbing an early lead, had 13 to the Cyclones' 7 at the end of the first quarter.

By the end of the half they were still well ahead with a score of 23-14.

Ray Burrus was high point with a total of 13, while Bruce Winn and Ray Burrus followed with 11 and 10 respectively.

Canyon High Band Sponsors Concert With Varied Groups

Three musical groups, the high school choir, the high school band and the eighth grade choir, performed in a concert at 7:30 p. m., January 12, in the high school auditorium.

Clair Mollenhoff, guest cornet soloist, assisted by Mary Helen Demus, played "Bride of the Waves" and "Carnival of Venice."

Other outstanding performances were Harrell Slack, soloist with the High School Girls' Sextet; Eighth Grade Girls' Octet; a duet Florence Coffee and Robert O'Donald; Barbara McDougal, soloist; and High School Mixed Ensemble.

Several selections given by the High School Band were "The Traveller Overture," "Deep Purple" and "The Desert Song."

The concert was sponsored by the band, directed by Herman Demus.

More truth than poetry

County Attorney Hayden Weaver of Canyon, left, examines a land purchase contract for County Clerk Tom Lair of Randall county. Lair last week received a check from the State Land board at Austin with which he bought a 150-acre farm located southwest of Canyon.

Five Randall County Veterans Receive Checks for Land Loans

Randall county's World War II veterans have hit the jackpot, insofar as the Texas veterans land loan law goes.

Up to this week end, five of the veterans already have received checks and have paid for their various tracts while two more applicants have had their purchases approved, with an additional two expected to be approved within 30 days.

This is the report from County Attorney Hayden Weaver of Canyon who represents the State Land board, set up under Land Commissioner Bascom Giles, in examining abstracts and passing on titles.

One of the first five veterans in Randall county to get land purchase contracts processed is County Clerk T. H. (Tom) Lair of Canyon. Lair has bought 150 acres of cropland, located 18 miles southwest of Canyon from an aunt for $50 an acre.

The other four veterans, who have secured land through this program in Randall county, are Cone Johnson of Happy, G. A. Sinningson of Canyon and two brothers, George and Arthur Ballard who live in Amarillo. The brothers bought 40 acres each of irrigated land from their father, W. R. Ballard, the land being located between Amarillo and Canyon. Their contracts called for the highest priced land, $175 per acre.

Sinningson paid $46.87½ an acre for 160 acres. Johnson bought 120 acres with a good house and barn for $10,000 of which he himself put up $2,500, the loan being for only $7,500, the limit allowed. His land is located northwest of Canyon.

"I have just received notice that the application of Robert E. Gorman has been approved," Weaver said Saturday. "Leslie Talbert's application is expected to be approved in a short time, and I have two more that will be approved in 30 days time, I believe."

Asked how Randall county managed to get all of these veterans' land loans through so quickly while in most counties of the Panhandle none have been approved, the Randall county attorney said:

"We started last summer and we have kept right after them all along. You can say our boys were on the ball, I guess."

Most of these purchases were from relatives which made the deals easier to handle since options were easier to renew. These veterans also got in on the disability priority. County Clerk Lair was 60 per cent disabled because of having been confined in a German prison camp for 18 months and 15 days during the war. He was a B-17 pilot, was shot down Oct. 14, 1943, and finally was released on April 25, 1945 near Munich. He spent most of those long months in Stalag-Luft No. 3 prison, in Eastern Germany, near the Polish border. He admits he got very little to eat all of that time except potatoes and a little barley soup. He lost all of his teeth as one result of his undernourished condition. He was a second lieutenant at the time. When he returned to Canyon, he was elected to his present position of county clerk.

Incidentally, County Attorney Weaver was a B-24 pilot in the Pacific during the war, having chalked up 985 hours of combat flying time in the Kwajaleen sector. He says some of his roughest time was spent in bombing Truk. Victor Kelley, now an attorney in Amarillo, was his bombardier.

They played Vega Saturday night in the finals, winning by a score of 33-27. Soony Hamblen a regular player for Wayside, was out of the games because of a sprained ankle. He was replaced by his younger brother, Guy, who really made a name for himself. He had the stellar role against Vega and fulfilled it to everybody's complete satisfaction. For having played such exceptional ball they placed two forwards on the all tournament team, Jack McGehee and Jerry Buster. They were awarded a beautiful trophy. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Mahler gave the ball club, their families and some girl friends a turkey supper Saturday night in their home.

Leon Keyserling, Acting Chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, would find his ears burning if he could hear what some of his top-ranking colleagues are saying about him for inducing the President to glance ahead from 5 to 50 years to foresee gains suggesting the millennium. The general theme is that Mr. Keyserling sang a political tune that may be a hit with voters in 1950, or even 1952, but won't alter greatly the harsh economic facts of life.

John Snyder, Treasury Secretary, is ready to favor the idea of allowing for faster depreciation of new plant and equipment, and the idea of some relief from double taxation of corporate income, if Congress will find some way to replace a good part of the revenue loss that would result. The Treasury's main preoccupation is to find dollars with which to pay bills.

Charles Brannan, Secretary of Agriculture, is not happy with his job of trying to hold up farm prices in the face of rising surpluses. He still is convinced that Congress will have to come around to the idea of letting prices decline, to increase consumption, while bolstering farm income with checks.

Sam Rayburn, House Speaker, and not Senator Scott Lucas, Majority Leader of the Senate, is tending more and more to represent the President in his dealings with Congress. Mr. Truman, more than ever, is taking advice from Senator Rayburn in shaping his congressional relations.

Gen. Omar Bradley, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, appears to figure that he has the Navy's admirals pretty well whipped into line with the official idea of de-emphasizing the Pacific and centering U. S. power and influence in Europe.

Middle-income group is called new source of capital.

Tribute Paid by Will Rogers To Memory of Sister

Today, as I write this, I am not in the Follies, the carefree comedian who jokes about everything. I am out in Oklahoma among my people, my Cherokee people, who don't expect a laugh for everything I say. Back home at the funeral of my sister.

She and my other sister started in this little western town—Chelsea, Oklahoma—some 35 years ago. They helped build the Methodist Church, the first church there. They have helped every movement that they knew was for the best upbuilding of their community. They have each raised a large family of boys and girls who are today a credit to their community. They have carried on the same as thousands of women have carried on in every small and Big Town in the world. They don't think they are doing anything out of the ordinary. They don't want credit. They do good simply because they don't know any other thing to do.

Death didn't scare her. It was only an episode in her life. If you live right, death is a joke to you as far as fear is concerned.

After all, there is nothing in the world like home. You can roam all over the world, but after all, it's what the people at home think of you that really counts. I have just today witnessed a funeral that for real sorrow and affection I don't think will ever be surpassed anywhere. They came in every mode of conveyance, on foot, in buggies, horseback, wagons, cars and trains, and there wasn't a soul that came that she hadn't helped or favored at one time or another.

Some uninformed newspapers printed: "Mrs. C. L. Lane, sister of the famous Comedian, Will Rogers." They were greatly misinformed. It's the other way around. I am the brother of Mrs. C. L. Lane, "The Friend of Humanity." And all the honors that I could ever in my wild dreams hope to reach, would never equal the honor paid on a little western prairie hilltop, among her people, to Maud Lane. If they will love me like that at the finish, my life will not have been in vain.

Taking a backhanded crack at Jimmy Byrnes for letting him down, Mr. Truman says he knows how Caesar felt. The American who begins to feel like Caesar had better lie down until it passes.

CLASSROOM ETIQUETTE

"What dirty hands you have, Tommy," said the young teacher. "What would you say if I came to school without washing my hands?" "Wouldn't say anything," replied Tommy. "I'd be too polite."

THEY DO

Teacher: Now, Can any boy give me a sentence using the word "diadem?" Pupil: People who drive carelessly across railroad tracks diadem sight quicker than those who stop, look and listen.

THINK OF THE GARAGE MEN

First Mechanic: "Which do you prefer, leather or fabric upholstery?" Second Mechanic: "I like fabric; leather is too hard to wipe your hands on."

The Arkansas constitution won't let state officials buy a multigraph for office use. Wonder what'd happen if the United States Constitution prevented Federal agencies from using the mimeograph?

The Republicans may not have uncovered any presidential timber, but they've certainly made enough trips to the woodshed.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Who does he think he's fooling?

Government Is Trying Pressure By Back Door

Will this country gradually adopt socialized medicine by the back door?

Current legislative developments give that question pertinence. The strongest kind of pressure has been exerted on behalf of the compulsory health insurance bill. However, so much public opposition has developed that its sponsors think other tactics may prove more fruitful for the time being.

As an example the Senate has passed and the House may soon vote on a bill, which has received relatively little attention, authorizing Federal grants-in-aid to medical schools. Under the terms of it, the Surgeon General would decide what schools were to get the money, in what order, and in what amounts. He would work with a council, but its functions would be advisory only. All the real power of action and decision would be vested in one man. The medical schools would have to come to him, in the scramble for funds.

If the government pays the bill—in this or any other matter—the government is eventually going to give the orders. That is inevitable. Such a measure, innocuous as it may seem to some, would be a perfect starting point for legislation which would subject our medical schools to political administration in all phases of their activity.

Still another measure which has passed the Senate and is now in the House would make the government responsible for the physical and mental health of all school children between five and 17. That may have an appealing sound—yet can anyone doubt that it would become a plank in the house of socialized medicine? The point is that socialism usually comes to nations on a piecemeal basis. These bills indicate the plan to be used in this country.

Consult Doctor Ere You Go to Smash Is Expert Advice

We do not all grow, develop, mature—nor do our organs degenerate—at the same rate, says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Today, a man of 60 may be as young, vigorous and vital as the average man of 40. On the other hand, he may look and act like a man of 80, old, weak and miserable. A man of 60 may have a 40 year old heart, 50 year old kidneys and an 80 year old liver.

"The physical changes which come with age alone are not entirely decline, either. Speed of reaction does diminish, but endurance increases in certain capacities. As speed declines, skill is increased with practice, and as strength declines, judgment increases. Automobile driving ability, for example, improves from 24 to 43 in the average individual and at 65 is superior to that of the 20's.

"Normal human beings can grow mentally at any age. The worst of all old-age diseases is neglect. Many factors that help make a healthy, happy old age are (1) eating right; (2) regular physical examinations and (3) keeping physically and mentally active without overtaxing ourselves. There is a rapidly growing branch of medicine, known as geriatrics, that specializes in disease and conditions of the ageing.

"Don't wait until you deteriorate—consult your physician now!"

Bufs Dropped Three Games to Arizona Teams

The Buffalo basketball team lost all three games on the trip to Arizona, arriving home Sunday to get ready for the trip to Abilene Feb. 2 where Hardin-Simmons will be met. H-S was defeated here by the Buffaloes, but defeated Texas Tech at Abilene this week as one of the upsets of the Border Conference.

Before leaving on the trip, Coach Gus Miller was fearful of the results of the second and third games as the Buffs have been off-form in recent bouts.

Flagstaff pulled a surprise on the Buffs Wednesday night, winning the game, 44-37. The Arizona team pulled the freeze stunt which has made the Buffs famous this year, and the Buffs could not overcome the lead of the Arizona crew.

Moving on to Tempe Thursday night, the Buffs dropped another game 68-63. The five point difference indicated that the Buffs were getting back into stride.

The best game so far this season was played Friday night by the Buffs at Tucson where the Buffs held the University of Arizona to a 67-59 score. Arizona U. has been the Border Conference winners for two years and has practically the same team as last year.

The Buffs have eight games during February and two in March to end the season.

China's Chiang Kai-shek counted upon the influence of officials highly placed in the U. S. Government to get him the aid he needed to bolster Formosa, but they did not come through. Rich Chinese officials had paid high fees for legal counsel to lawyers with powerful connections politically and had counted on more reward than they are getting.

A deal is shaping through which Britain will go along with U. S. in restoring Franco Spain to full diplomatic standing in Europe, while the United States extends diplomatic recognition to the new Communist regime in China. Franco's trouble is that he'll be accepted in good standing about the time that the United States is tightening up on the supply of dollars being passed around among friends.
